Consciousness Can Alter Our Physical Material World

We've written about it numerous times, it's called the quantum double slit experiment, and it's a great example of how consciousness can affect our physical material world. A paper published in the peer-reviewed journal Physics Essays explains how this experiment has been used multiple times to explore the role of consciousness in shaping the nature of physical reality."

Consciousness Can Alter Our Physical Material World

“Observation not only disturbs what has to be measured, they produce it. We compel the electron to assume a definite position. We ourselves produce the results of the measurement.”

Ramtha: "The Brain As a Wavelength Receiver"

"It isn't consistent that the Gods who created all the planes of life would not create themselves a body that could receive all of it. Gods that are so grand as to set gaseous forms, lower forms, into momentum in space – and to conceive of space, that eternal void, as a thought – would never have created a body, no matter how small, that did not have the ability or the perception to pick up all they have created. The human brain has the capacity of picking up every single one of the energy fields all the way to Infinite Unknown. As a result of that, the Gods developed states and realms of consciousness that coexist with those energy fields."

Laughter Does the Body Good

The evidence is unquestionable and no clinician or researcher today doubts the biological value of laughter. Dr. Berk, who earned his Ph.D. in public health, is regularly interviewed on CNN, 60 Minutes, The Discovery Channel, BBC, Australian Broadcasting Corporation, Korean Broadcasting System, and Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The ability to intentionally create happiness and health exists within us and people want to know about it.

Ramtha on the value of laughter

"The greatest prayer you could ever say would be to laugh every day. For when you do, it elevates the vibratory frequency within your being such that you could heal your entire body."

"The first thing I said to my daughter is that the greatest things are achieved in a light heart. It is not the heart, the pump, but the heart in humanity, meaning the true self, not the intellectual self. The heart always represented God. "
